Over the course of the nine-month program, St. Louis Coro Fellows will immerse themselves in:

- Rotating field placements across sectors, including Business, Government, Nonprofit, Labor and Electoral Politics, as well as group and individual projects
- Closed-door group interviews with key civic leaders and decision-makers
- Weekly seminars to support learning and critical leadership competencies
- Focus weeks and site visits for a deeper dive into civic issues

Upon graduation, Coro Fellows join a vast network of alumni – within the St. Louis region, across the country and around the globe.

Coro is an incredible opportunity that will change your life in every way possible. It also leaves you with lifelong friends that will support you for the remainder of your career.”

- Leore Ben-Chorin
- 2014-15 St. Louis Coro Fellow
- Research Assistant, Harvard Kennedy School’s Belfer Center for Science and International Affairs

Change is inevitable. The critical question is how society enables change.”

Take the Next Step
Since 1947, the Coro Fellows program has equipped emerging leaders with the resources they need to understand how decisions are made, how complex policies are shaped and how to influence meaningful change.

The Fellows Program is founded on Coro’s unique curriculum of essential leadership skills training paired with real-world experiences – turning the community into your classroom.

Coro Fellows Are:
- Diverse, encompassing a wide range of communities, interests, ideologies and experiences
- Committed to influencing positive change in their communities throughout their lives and careers
- Brought together by curiosity and common interests in leadership, civic engagement and innovation

Competitively selected applicants will join an intimate cohort of 12 participants in St. Louis for the nine-month program. Graduates emerge from the program with significant cross-sector experience, self-awareness and increased clarity in launching the next phase of their careers.

About the Coro Fellowship in Public Affairs

The Coro Fellows experience empowered me to believe that I do not have to wait to be the person that I want to be five or 10 years from now. Instead, I can be that person today.”

Julia Brucks
2014-15 St. Louis Coro Fellow
Director of Public Affairs, St. Louis Regional Health Commission

In a world full of narrow interests, partisanship and labels, the Coro experience is not only unique, it is transformative, challenging preconceived notions about public life and presenting the rare opportunity to understand the world more truly for what it is.”

Douglas Waggoner
2013-14 St. Louis Coro Fellow
Communications Director
U.S. Congressman Rick Larsen

The Coro Fellows experience enabled me to be a change agent within the St. Louis startup community. Even as someone who’s relatively young, I’m viewed as a connector and thought leader in the startup world, and to be a part of that conversation has been really exciting.”

Matt Menietti
2010-11 St. Louis Coro Fellow
Executive Director
